

Medical News

Dalal Alhasan, MD, MSc*

Intrapartum Care Symposium and Workshop

The Obstetrics and Gynecology Department, in collaboration with the Education and Proficiency Center, organized an “Intrapartum Care Symposium and Workshop” on 5 and 12 October 2018 at the main lecture hall, King Hamad University Hospital.

Dr. Jaffar Albareeq delivered a lecture on “Intrapartum Litigation” and how to effectively avoid litigation. He discussed the impact of litigations and talked about how obstetric litigation is on the increase. He also covered key points of expert witness according to the General Medical Council. Finally, he quoted Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. saying, “injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere”.

The objective of this event was to enable physicians and midwives to review maternal and new-born assessment skills from evidence-based medicine.

The event was intended for obstetrics and gynecology physicians, nurses, midwives, and allied health staff.

This event was approved for 12 CME credit hours.

Professor Kevin Dunne Sendoff

Professor Kevin Patrick Dunne has retired as Head of Pediatrics Department at King Hamad University Hospital after 5 years of service, since 2013. He will now be working as a full time in professorial position at the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland – Bahrain.

Professor Imelda Mary Lambert has been appointed as Acting Head of Pediatrics Department.

The 9th Manchester Triage System Course

The Emergency Medicine Department, in collaboration with the Education and Proficiency Center, had organized the “9th Manchester Triage System Course” on 14th October 2018 at the Main Lecture Hall, King Hamad University Hospital.

The objective of this event was to educate the Manchester Triage System through lectures and practical sessions.

The event was intended for physicians, nurses and interns.

This event was approved for 7 CME credit hours.

* Director of Education and Proficiency Center
King Hamad University Hospital
Kingdom of Bahrain
E-mail: dalal.alhasan@khu.org.bh